MYTH

Majors in the humanities don't prepare students for post-graduate study or for the tests that will get them into law, medical, or graduate school.

ACCEP

Majors in philosophy, literature, and history have among the highest average scores

on the GMAT (for business and management), the LSAT (for law school), the MCAT (for medical school), and the GRE (for PhD programs).

REALITY

HumanitiesWorks.org

For sources and data, and more information, visit humanitiesworks.org/graduate-school